

How the Course will Operate

Jordan Boyd-Graber

University of Maryland

Computer Science, iSchool, Language Science, UMIACS

How I Usually Teach: Flipped Classroom

- Hands-on practice
- My responsibility: record lectures before class
- In class: you help each other, and we work through examples
- Your responsibility: come to class with questions from lecture

How I Usually Teach: Flipped Classroom

- Hands-on practice
- My responsibility: record lectures before class
- In class: you help each other, and we work through examples
- Your responsibility: come to class with questions from lecture
- Not happening this time!

Co-Teaching

- Different perspectives
- Different styles
- Different backgrounds

Co-Teaching

- Different perspectives
 - ▶ JBG: Applications
 - ▶ NHF: Theory
- Different styles
- Different backgrounds

Co-Teaching

- Different perspectives
 - ▶ JBG: Applications
 - ▶ NHF: Theory
- Different styles
 - ▶ JBG: Slides
 - ▶ NHF: Boardwork
- Different backgrounds

Co-Teaching

- Different perspectives
 - ▶ JBG: Applications
 - ▶ NHF: Theory
- Different styles
 - ▶ JBG: Slides
 - ▶ NHF: Boardwork
- Different backgrounds
 - ▶ JBG: CS
 - ▶ NHF: Cognitive Science / Linguistics

Co-Teaching

- Different perspectives
 - ▶ JBG: Applications
 - ▶ NHF: Theory
- Different styles
 - ▶ JBG: Slides
 - ▶ NHF: Boardwork
- Different backgrounds
 - ▶ JBG: CS
 - ▶ NHF: Cognitive Science / Linguistics
- Lecture: One of us
- Midterm: Both
- Homeworks: One of us (more JBG)